WARNING: Do not use this transmittal for a completion in the U.S. of an International Application under 35 U.S.C. § 371(c)(4), unless the International Application is being filed as a divisional, continuation or continuation-in-part application.

WARNING: Do not use this transmittal for the filing of a provisional application.

NOTE: If one of the following 3 items apply, then complete and attach ADDED PAGES FOR NEW APPLICATION TRANSMITTAL WHERE BENEFIT OF A PRIOR U.S. APPLICATION CLAIMED and a NOTIFICATION IN PARENT APPLICATION OF THE FILING OF THIS CONTINUATION APPLICATION.

- ☐ Divisional.
- ☐ Continuation.
- ☐ Continuation-in-part (C-I-P).

2. Benefit of Prior U.S. Application(s) (35 U.S.C. §§ 119(e), 120, or 121)

NOTE: A nonprovisional application may claim an invention disclosed in one or more prior filed copending nonprovisional applications or copending international applications designating the United States of America. In order for a nonprovisional application to claim the benefit of a prior filed copending nonprovisional application or copending international application designating the United States of America, each prior application must name as an inventor at least one inventor named in the later filed nonprovisional application and disclose the named inventor's invention claimed in at least one claim of the later filed nonprovisional application in the manner provided by the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. § 112. Each prior application must also be:

(i) An international application entitled to a filing date in accordance with PCT Article 11 and designating the United States of America; or

(ii) Complete as set forth in § 1.51(b); or

(iii) Entitled to a filing date as set forth in § 1.53(b) or § 1.53(d) and include the basic filing fee set forth in § 1.16; or

(iv) Entitled to a filing date as set forth in § 1.53(b) and have paid therein the processing and retention fee set forth in § 1.21(f) within the time period set forth in § 1.53(f).

37 C.F.R. § 1.78(a)(1).

NOTE: If the new application being transmitted is a divisional, continuation or a continuation-in-part of a parent case, or where the parent case is an International Application which designated the U.S., or benefit of a prior provisional application is claimed, then check the following item and complete and attach ADDED PAGES FOR NEW APPLICATION TRANSMITTAL WHERE BENEFIT OF PRIOR U.S. APPLICATION(S) CLAIMED.

WARNING: If an application claims the benefit of the filing date of an earlier filed application under 35 U.S.C. §§ 120, 121 or 365(c), the 20-year term of that application will be based upon the filing date of the earliest U.S. application that the application makes reference to under 35 U.S.C. §§ 120, 121 or 365(c). (35 U.S.C. § 154(a)(2) does not take into account, for the determination of the patent term, any application on which priority is claimed under 35 U.S.C. §§ 119, 365(a) or 365(b).) For a c-i-p application, applicant should review whether any claim in the patent that will issue is supported by an earlier application and, if not, the applicant should consider canceling the reference to the earlier filed application. The term of a patent is not based on a claim-by-claim approach. See Notice of April 14, 1995, 60 Fed. Reg. 20,195, at 20,205.

WARNING: When the last day of pendency of a provisional application falls on a Saturday, Sunday, or Federal holiday within the District of Columbia, any nonprovisional application claiming benefit of the provisional application must be filed prior to the Saturday, Sunday, or Federal holiday within the District of Columbia. See 37 C.F.R. § 1.78(a)(3).

- ☐ The new application being transmitted claims the benefit of prior U.S. application(s). Enclosed are ADDED PAGES FOR NEW APPLICATION TRANSMITTAL WHERE BENEFIT OF PRIOR U.S. APPLICATION(S) CLAIMED.

WARNING: "Status as a small entity must be specifically established in each application or patent in which the status is available and desired. Status as a small entity in one application or patent does not affect any other application or patent, including applications or patents which are directly or indirectly dependent upon the application or patent in which the status has been established. The refiling of an application under § 1.53 as a continuation, division, or continuation-in-part (including a continued prosecution application under § 1.53(d)), or the filing of a reissue application requires a new determination as to continued entitlement to small entity status for the continuing or reissue application. A nonprovisional application claiming benefit under 35 U.S.C. § 119(e), 120, 121, or 365(c) of a prior application, or a reissue application may rely on a statement filed in the prior application or in the patent if the nonprovisional application or the reissue application includes a reference to the statement in the prior application or in the patent or includes a copy of the statement in the prior application or in the patent and status as a small entity is still proper and desired. An authorization to charge all required fees, fees under § 1.17, or all required extension of time fees will be treated as a constructive petition for an extension of time in any concurrent or future reply requiring a petition for an extension of time under this paragraph for its timely submission. Submission of the fee set forth in § 1.17(a) will also be treated as a constructive petition for an extension of time in any concurrent reply requiring a petition for an extension of time under this paragraph for its timely submission." 37 C.F.R. § 1.136(a)(3).

☐ 37 C.F.R. § 1.18 (issue fee at or before mailing of Notice of Allowance, pursuant to 37 C.F.R. § 1.311(b))

NOTE: Where an authorization to charge the issue fee to a deposit account has been filed before the mailing of a Notice of Allowance, the issue fee will be automatically charged to the deposit account at the time of mailing the notice of allowance. 37 C.F.R. § 1.311(b).

NOTE: 37 C.F.R. § 1.28(b) requires "Notification of any change in status resulting in loss of entitlement to small entity status must be filed in the application . . . prior to paying, or at the time of paying, . . . the issue fee. . . ." From the wording of 37 C.F.R. § 1.28(b), (a) notification of change of status must be made even if the fee is paid as "other than a small entity" and (b) no notification is required if the change is to another small entity.

16. Instructions as to Overpayment

NOTE: "... Amounts of twenty-five dollars or less will not be returned unless specifically requested within a reasonable time, nor will the payer be notified of such amounts; amounts over twenty-five dollars may be returned by check or, if requested, by credit to a deposit account." 37 C.F.R. § 1.26(a).

Background of the Invention

Communications devices, such as mobile phones, pagers and the like, are being packed with more and more features. In the past such mobile equipment has been a closed environment namely, all of the features use software within the mobile equipment or SIM. With the advent of new technologies, which use wireless communications protocols, such as Wireless Application Protocol (WAP) or comparable protocols, additional applications are accessible by the mobile device, from network servers. As a result a new security threat arises for mobile equipment. Mobile equipment will soon be subject to queries designed to extract confidential security information from the user, such as a PIN or other identifier. It is therefore necessary to devise a reliable system in which requests for information originating from remote "hostile" sources can be readily identified, ignored.

It is a purpose of this invention to provide a system for identifying remote inquiries which may precipitate a breach of security in the use of mobile equipment such as a mobile telephone, pager or other similar communications device.

Summary of the Invention

In order to use applications accessible from a network server, a mobile device is designed for interactive use. This enables the mobile device to run such applications stored on a network server remote from the mobile device. To reduce the risk of receiving bogus requests for confidential identifiers, a system is 5 designed to identify externally generated inquiries. To this end, means are provided to segregate the display of remote information requests. The mobile device is equipped with a display that is divided into dynamic and static display zones. Externally generated inquiries can 10 be written only to the dynamic zone. Internally generated inquiries will trigger an indicator in the static zone to advise the user of the authenticity of the inquiry. As a result hostile requests for information may be immediately recognized and ignored.

Description of the Drawing

The invention is described in more detail below with reference to the attached drawing in which:

25 of this invention; and

Figures 3a and 3b illustrate embodiments of the segregated screen of this invention.

Description of the Preferred Embodiment

5       The basic components of the communications system of this invention are shown in the block diagram of figure 1. A mobile device 1 is connected through a communications link 9 to a network server 10. In this instance, the network server 10 does more than facilitate communications
10   traffic, it also provides interactive applications such as banking, E-mail, investing and other features.

Mobile device 1 includes a microprocessor control unit (MCU) 2 that is accessed by the user via a user 15   interface 3, such as a keyboard. Display 5 communicates information from the MCU 2 to the user. The MCU 2 contains the required software or firmware to execute the functions on mobile device 2 required to operate the applications resident in the network server 10. Many of 20   the applications will require the use of security identifiers, such as PINS and other confidential codes to be access the personal application files of the user.

In the early days of networked computers, there was a 25   proliferation of bogus log-in procedures that generated inquiries to the personal computer for confidential information. If the information was supplied, it was stolen and used for criminal or other activities not authorized by the user. The risk of such security
30   breaches is now becoming a problem for the user of mobile devices, especially those equipped to take advantage of the communications protocols such as WAP. Such protocols represent standard operating procedures for interactive transmittal of data used to execute an assortment of transactions. Although many of these transactions are secure because of the required digital signatures, such as PIN codes, it is essential that the code be maintained confidential. Bogus inquiries are a significant threat to the usefulness of these applications.

The mobile device 1 of this invention is equipped with a display 5, which is divided into two discrete zones, a static display zone 7 and a dynamic display zone 6. An internal display router 4 directs internally generated inquiries and information to either the static or dynamic displays.

As shown in figures 3a and 3b, the static display 7 may present menu icons, tool symbols, status indications, such as battery level, and other administrative references. The dynamic display 6 is for displaying interactive information relative to executing the activities of an application in progress. Information generated within the mobile device, may be displayed on either the static or dynamic displays.

Information transmitted to the mobile device 1 from, for example a hostile source 11 through the network server 10, will utilize browser protocols and be readily identifiable. This information is directed to the dynamic display 6 by a external display router 8. In this manner, information from the network server 10 is isolated from the internally generated information of the mobile device 1.

To inform the user of the authenticity of inquiries for identifier codes, an indicator symbol 12, for example a blinking icon, will be displayed in the static display 7, as shown in figures 3a and 3b. When displayed, this symbol will indicate to the user that the request is internally generated. Since the MCU identifies the external inquiry and this information is only routed to the dynamic display 6, there is a reliable indication that a PIN number can be transmitted without appreciable risk of abuse.

As shown in figure 2, in operation, if a bogus log-in procedure from hostile source 11 is transmitted through the network server 10, when it is received, it is identified by the MCU and routed only to dynamic display 6. The externally generated inquiry may be written only to the dynamic display 6. When an inquiry is generated by the execution of internal software, an indication is prominently displayed in the static display 7. When responding to the inquiry displayed in dynamic display 6, the user will be warned not to respond unless the internal indicator is displayed.

In this manner transmittal of confidential identification codes, restricted and the risk of unauthorized interception and use of PIN codes and the like may be significantly reduced.

We claim as our invention:

1. In a mobile communications device adapted to allow a user to communicate interactively with a remote network server, a system within said mobile device for indicating the authenticity of inquiries for confidential identity codes comprising:

10 a control processor for operating said mobile device, said processor adapted to identify said inquiries for confidential identity codes as externally generated or internally generated;

15 a display for presenting information to the user, said display divided into first and second display zones; and

20 routing means constructed to send externally generated information only to said first display zone;

25 wherein said control processor generates an indication symbol in said second display zone when the inquiry is internally generated to indicate to the user that said inquiry is authentic.

2. In a mobile communications device adapted to allow a user to communicate interactively with a remote network server, a system within said mobile device for indicating the authenticity of inquiries for confidential identity codes, as described in claim 1, wherein the first and second display zones are dynamic and static displays respectively.

5           3.    In a mobile communications device adapted to allow a user to communicate interactively with a remote network server, a system within said mobile device for indicating the authenticity of inquiries for confidential identity codes, as described in claim 1, wherein said
10 externally generated information is identified by said control processor.

          4.    In a mobile communications device adapted to communicate interactively with a remote network server,
15 said mobile device having a control processor, a user interface and a display, a method for indicating the authenticity of inquiries for confidential identity codes comprising:

20               identifying    said inquiries for confidential identity codes as externally generated or internally generated;

              dividing said display into first and second 25 display zones;

              routing externally generated inquiries only to said first display zone; and generating an indication symbol in said second display zone when the inquiry is internally generated, to indicate to the user that said inquiry is authentic.

5           5. In a mobile communications device adapted to allow a user to communicate interactively with a remote network server, said mobile device having a control processor, a user interface and a display, a method for indicating the authenticity of inquiries for confidential
10 identity codes, as described in claim 4, wherein the first and second display zones are dynamic and static displays respectively.

15           6. In a mobile communications device adapted to communicate interactively with a remote network server, said mobile device having a control processor, a user interface and a display panel, a method for indicating the authenticity of inquiries for confidential identity codes, as described in claim 4, wherein said control processor
20 identifies the externally generated information.

Abstract of the Disclosure

A mobile communications device is adapted to use 5 applications resident on a remote network server. The display of the mobile device is divided into static and dynamic display zones. Inquiries originating externally from the mobile device are identified and restrictively routed only to the dynamic display. Internally generated 10 inquiries trigger a indicator symbol within the static display. In this manner bogus requests for confidential identifiers may be avoided.
